After 28 years of broadcasting solely to the dormitories and fraternities of Rutgers University's New Brunswick campuses, a major change occurred. On January 27th, 1974, one of the oldest voices in college broadcasting became the newest voice in central New Jersey — WRSU - FM.

As a non-commercial, educational radio station we try to provide our listeners with programs of a different nature than those heard on commercial radio stations.

Our programs are produced by a completely volunteer staff of University students and are designed to inform and educate, as well as entertain, all of those people in our broadcasting community.
